Worried about preserving emails? Concerned about supplying access to electronic records? Curious about how to archive social media?

This course engages these issues by providing an introduction to the curation of born-digital collections and the technical requirements for their storage, preservation, and dissemination. Topics will include the appraisal, processing, storage, maintenance, and use of digital files, email, and web resources.

Students will be meet both online and face-to-face. The face-to-face meetings will allow students to explore these issues using real world digital objects.

Term: Spring 2017
CRN: 35670
Campus: Norman - Main Campus
Schedule Type: Seminar
Instructional Method: Blended course
Schedule: Online with face-to-face labs
Labs: February 18 and March 25, 2017
Instructor: Dr. Nathan M. Gerth

http://slis.ou.edu/